Tangier, Feb. 11.

WE have Letters from Colonel Kirk, who is gone for Morocco, to acquaint the King Muley Ismael with the reason of Sir James Leslie (His Majesties Ambassador to him) his having delayed his departure from hence, which inform us, of the extraordinary civil usage which he had received from the Alcayde of Alcazar, who being indisposed in his Health, is departed from Alcazar towards the Court in his Litter; ordering Colonel Kirk's departure to be two or three days after his, that he might not be too long detained on his Journey. We have likewise Advice that Muley Ismael is preparing to take the Field, being very much allarmed with the account he has received, that his Nephew Muley Hamet is marching with a great Army from Suz towards Morocco. Admiral Herbert has been some time at Sea, but we have not as yet any account of what he has done against the Algerines. We were informed the other day, that one of our Frigats had forced an Algerine man of War ashore near Arzilla, but it proves to be only a small Portuguese-Prize laden with Corn, and some Brazile Tobacco. About ten days since another small Vessel belonging to Argiers, was forced ashore within shot of Arzilla, and burnt by some of our Frigats. We have had a very tempestuous Winter, but God be thanked there has not any Vessel miscarried in this Port, and the Mole has not suffered the least damage.

Genoua, March 12. The tenth Instant Eight French Gallies appeared in sight of this place, but the weather would not suffer them to come in, and its believed they are gone to Villa Franca. This week arrived here two French Vessels laden with Corn from the Morea. We have not as yet any news of Captain Bouchier in the Reserve, who ought to have been here some time since, so that we are in some pain for him. It is reported that three Algerines were two days since seen off of Corsica, and that they have taken several small Vessels, who were deceived by the French Colours they wore.

Heydelberg, March 15. The Letters we receive from Munick tell us, that the Elector of Bavaria was going to Marry the Princess of Saxe Eysnack, a very beautiful Lady, and of the Lutheran Religion. Our Elector went hence on the Second Instant to Manheim, and from thence to Frankendall, to receive the Homage of that City. Mr. Bertie, Envoye Extraordinary from His Majesty of Great Britain is still here.

Lintz, March 18. The 13th Instant their Imperial Majesties returned hither from Old Oetingen; and the next day the Emperor went to Ebersberg, to meet his Sister the Queen of Poland, and the same Evening brought her hither. The young Imperial Prince has not been well these two or three days, which may delay the Courts removal from hence to Vienna. Some Letters from Hungary Allarm us with the Preparations the Turks are making at Belgrade and other places, which they say, are meant against that Kingdom; but there are others which tell us, that the Turks design to bring an Army into the Field this Summer, and to march with it against Abafit Prince of Transylvania, whom the Grand Signior is resolved to Depose.

Berlin, March 16. Our Elector returned hither yesterday from Francfort on the Oder, and intends to continue here till the arrival of Prince Louis and his Princess, who are coming from Prussia, and are expected here the next week. It is hoped that the Dyet of Poland will give their consent to this Marriage, which will be very advantageous to his Electoral Highnesses Family, by reason of the great Possessions which this Princess is by Right to Inherit in the Great Dutchy of Lytuania. The Marriage of the Elector of Bavaria with the Daughter of the Prince of Saxe Eysenach, is said for certain to be concluded.

Berlin, March 19. Prince Louis and his Princess, who are expected here the beginning of the next week, will make a publick Entry here, and be received with great splendor. From Warsaw they write, that some who were no friends to the French had proposed, That for preserving the inward quiet of the Kingdom, no Forreign Minister should be permitted to stay at the Court longer than eight days after the conclusion of the Dyet. The Letters we receive from Hungary give us ground to fear that things are not so near an Accommodation, as it is to be wished they were.

Strasburg, March 21. On Saturday last two battallions of Foot marched from Brisac to Fribourg, where the Garrison is already so numerous, that part of it is forced to Lodge without the Walls. The French by their thronging that place with so many Men, seem to have a jealousie of the Imperial Troops, which are moving on that side. Fresh men arrive daily at Munninger to work on the Fortifications, which the French are extreamly zealous to have finished. The Baron de Monclar is gone for Paris.

Cologne, March 25. Our Electors Troops continue to march towards Liege, and we are told that others will joyn with them. We are expecting here Count Tauf the Emperors Envoye.

Brussels, March 25. Preparations we hear are making at Malines to receive the Prince of Parma, and
